Captur Iridium, the smart crossover

- Captur Iridium: an extensively-equipped limited-edition version
- Exclusive appointments, with prices starting from €20,000 (France only)
- Production restricted to 2,000 cars

The generously-equipped Captur Iridium – the first limited-edition New Captur to hit the market – comes in a choice of stylish colour combinations.

This distinctive and technologic New Captur, which sits on 17-inch Explorer alloy wheels, features specific two-tone finishes, while its side protective mouldings and front and rear skid plates are picked out in Alto Grey. The roof and door mirror housing graphics are also specific and the sides sport bespoke Iridium badging.

There are Alto Grey touches inside the cabin, too, including the air vent and gear lever surrounds, while the fabric and Alcantara upholstery is exclusive to Captur Iridium. Indeed, thanks to details like the illuminated climate control module surround, this limited-edition version boasts a level of refinement previously reserved for the model's Initiale Paris version.

Captur Iridium is based on the line-up's Intens equipment level and comes complete with the Techno Pack, R-Link, hands-free parking and the City Pack Plus (front and rear parking sensors), not to mention Media-Nav and the Bose Sound System.

Customers can choose from a selection of four body/roof colour combinations, namely Etoilé Black/Platine Grey, Cassiopée Grey/Etoilé Black, Platine Grey/Etoilé black and Ocean Blue/Platine Grey.

The limited-edition Captur Iridium is on display at Renault's French dealerships during the network's special September promotional weekend (September 14-18).
