Thirty-eight crews to launch the season at Le Touquet

Kicking off its fifth season since the introduction of Clio Rally5, the Clio Trophy France Asphalte will feature 38 crews in action on the Rallye Le Touquet Pas-de-Calais. Title holder Benjamin Stirling will debut with Clio Rally3 in the French Rally Championship on the same roads, while 25 Juniors will be vying to succeed him to get an official programme for 2025.

After crowning Anthony Fotia, Romain Di-Fante, Thomas Chauffray and Benjamin Stirling while speeding up the careers of several competitors, the Clio Trophy France Asphalte promises another breathtaking vintage with a service park combining quantity and quality from many of the leading structures in French rallying.

Runner-up to Benjamin Stirling last year, Benjamin Barnouin is one of the logical favourites. Still, the GMC Compétition driver from Vaucluse knows that one of his main rivals on the Pas-de-Calais special stages could be Arthur Pelamourgues. 2023 Power Stage Jean Ragnotti Trophy winner, he led the opening round 12 months ago before crashing out in the final kilometres. The Fun Meca Sport driver is more determined than ever to take his revenge and get his season off to a flying start.

Opposite them, Sébastien Loeb Racing will defend the crown won by Benjamin Stirling. Yoan Corberand, who finished second last year in Le Touquet, hopes to get his campaign off to a strong start, just like his team-mate Nicolas Hebrard, now teamed with Amandine Borderie, who has already enjoyed success in Clio Rally5 with Tom Pieri and Jean-Sébastien Vigion. Dominique Heintz and Jean-Philippe Nicolao's troops will also field promising juniors Maxime Krasnobaev, Amaury Facchinetti, and hill-climb transfer Maxime Dojat.

On an event renowned for its tricky roads and conditions, experience could work in favour of the more seasoned competitors. While Romain Fostier, Julien Deslauriers and Jérôme Janny will hope to come out on top, the list of front-runners is growing with Tom Vauclare, Enzo Beschet and Samuel Lay, all determined to make their mark on the season. Meanwhile, Jean-Claude Pietri, Martin Massé, Calvin Lucas, Lucas Zielinski, Maxence Potard, Paul Dachicourt and Quentin Roger – competing on home soil – will rely on their knowledge of the special stages, which will be brand new for Thomas Santiago, Rémy Narbon and Charlotte Olea.

Several newcomers to Clio Trophy France Asphalte will try to spring a surprise, such as Andrea Pelini after his victorious debut at the Rallye des Routes du Nord, or Robin Mercier, Julien Labonde, Néo Rivallant and Teddy Turco, all of whom have been impressive in the French Rally Cup. Corsican Marc Pompei is another driver to watch as he makes his debut outing on mainland France. At the same time, David Jeanne, Anthony Diel and Nicolas Vanderweerde are eager to distinguish themselves in their trophy debut.

The battle will be fierce to succeed Mike Souvigné in the Gentleman category. Franck Giraud, who came second in this class last year in Le Touquet, will target victory over Willy Mathey, Jean-Pierre Lejeune and Philippe Janvier, who returns to the event after a 20-year absence. The field is completed by Frédéric and Romain Misiek, father and son, both preparing to make their first start in Le Touquet.

An ideal springboard in the rally pyramid, the Clio Trophy Asphalte France will see title holder Benjamin Stirling launch his official programme with Clio Rally3 thanks to his Junior title won in 2023. The Alsatian will discover four-wheel drive competition with his car prepared by Sébastien Loeb Racing and decked out in the colours of Castrol, a major partner of Renault's customer racing activities. Three other Clio Rally3s, including one for Thomas Chauffray with technical support from Alpine Racing and Michelin Motorsport, will also be at the start, along with a Clio Rally4. Renault will again be the most represented brand in the FFSA French Rally Championship.

The Rallye Le Touquet Pas-de-Calais begins on Friday with a loop of four stages, all repeated in the late afternoon. On Saturday, the crews will tackle three timed sectors negotiated twice, including Hucqueliers - Inxent, the longest one on the route at 22.95 km and the scene of the Jean Ragnotti Power Stage with up to ten bonus points at stake. The 14 special stages will total 184.52 kilometres out of a total route of 553.56 km.

ABOUT CLIO TROPHY FRANCE ASPHALTE AND TERRE

Since its launch in 2020, Clio Rally5 has succeeded on all surfaces, including in France with the Clio Trophy France Asphalt and Clio Trophy France Terre. The two trophies contest five rounds of the FFSA French Tarmac and Gravel Rally Championships, with the two calendars deliberately independent and complementary to maximise opportunities for each competitor. Several internal rankings and the Renault Network Challenge enable all the actors to be involved and to benefit from a unique level of fairness and technical support at this level. As a springboard for the most promising hopefuls, both competitions reward their best Juniors with an official programme.

ABOUT RENAULT

Renault, a historic mobility brand and pioneer of electric vehicles in Europe, has always developed innovative vehicles. With the 'Renaultion' strategic plan, Renault has embarked on an ambitious, value-generating transformation moving towards a more competitive, balanced and electrified range. Its ambition is to embody modernity and innovation in technology, energy and mobility services in the automotive industry and beyond.
